New Book by Holman Day

THE RIDER OF THE KING LOG. B. Holman Day. Published by Harper's.

LIPPINCOTT BOOKS

A Powerful Work of Fiction by a Well Known Author Writmarkable story, where the hero, victim of playwright at his best. a typical American error of mental hygiene, rangles up a good many lives and furnishes a stirring drama.

SEEING PENNSYLVANIA

112 illustrations, 2 maps, $5.00 net A fascinating guide to the wonderful senic features of Pennsylvania, many of which have been overlooked because they are off the beaten track of travel—with much orical lore and interesting information

SOCIAL GAMES AND

The progressive photographer, amateur or refessional, will welcome this book on the inderlying principles of art as applied to photography. It might well be termed paint-lesful effects may be secured. New Edition Enlarged the camera, and explains how

90 illustrations, 2 octava volumes, $10 net The only complete history of the Amerian stage. A more fascinating story has never been told. Surely destined to be-ome an historical classic.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO. PRILADELPHIA

Do you stand dazed before the mountain of new books, wondering what to buy? Here are a number of suggestions that will help you

her elephant man

Dosition to become the "espirator man" n a clruse and its especially about lines Session loan's quantity gruff and lender gourdism, who would be worth sanwing for resulting but is doubly love. The lines took by Pearl Doles Hell. $1.75 is James Branch cabells latest bool and he believe most people will consto. It has best it's an amazing not of fan far, dealing with the adventures among men and women of a retired poet and pawinbooker who has been prinsted the dangerous gifts of a young man's body and the glitering shirt of the Centaur. Nessus Jurgen is at once witry and trontal and profound; it is both good literature and the best of entertain ment.

the

new decameron

don Rohmer's latest. A story of Lon-lon's drug traffic, well worthy of the arther of the Fu. Manthu books. Even betopin who don't ordinarily enloy mys-lery-tales will like this.

Robert M. McBride & Co.

Gossip

"Hands Off"

"Hands Off." to be published October 21, Beulah Marie Dix has written an adventure story which tells of a young man who goes to Mexico, where he falls among thieves, who rob him and leave him on the street. He is thrown into jail and ultimately taken out and carried to a a ranch as a leased laborer under the Mexican system, Romance enters when he meets a young American girl, and Macmillan, who are publishing the story, guarantee that there isn't a dull moment in it.

Winston Churchill Turns Dramatist Forsaking for the time being the neld of the novel, Winston Churchill GROUP DANCES

By L. C. ELSOM & BLANCH M. TRILLING 45 illustrations. $1.75 net

A splendid and very complete collection of games and dances suitable for community and social use, very carefully illustrated and set forth.

THE FINE ART OF

PHOTOGRAPHY

The progressive photographer, amateur or professional, will welcome this book on the action takes place; his wife, Augusta; his son, George, who goes off to fight in France, to return with a play is to be published on October 21. The scene of the drama is laid presumably in the country of Mr. Churchill's "Coniston." Although the subject dealt with concerns the great issue confronting the world to-day—industrial democracy—the back-ground of the play is a village set smong the beautiful New England hills, tere where the Pindar family have for some generations owned the water power and manufactured tools. The characters, Spe

Asher Pindar, the conservative head of the action takes place; his wife, Augusta; his son, George, who goes off to fight in France, to return with a to fight in France, to return with a new set of values; Timothy Farrell, the foreman, and Minnie, his daughter, and the workmen who appear are all true to the American environment.

Victims of Dope

WHY WORRY?

WHY WORRY?

The new dinner five to obtain matter for "Dope", is latest novel (McErides, Sax Rollmer Land and the famous book is a smort call to the spirit of the new age and practical guide to sane living. 19 impressions was the record of the first edition, and the spirit of the new age and practical guide to sane living. 19 impressions was the record of the first edition, and the spirit of the subject, he determined to recommend the subject he determined to recommend the subject has determed to recommend the subject has determined to recommend the subject has determed to recommend the subject has determined to recommend the subject has determed the subject has determined to recommend the subject has a close quarters. He speedily discovered that the Assistic quarters has been covered that the first and quarters.

The Blaunted Bookshop

Booksellers obsorbed Bookshop

In Blaunted Bookshop

Booksellers of book In order to obtain matter for "Dope," his latest novel 'McBride', Sax Rohmer

Hergesheimer Describes Cabell

Hergesheimer Describes Cabell

The many readers who find in the work of Joseph Hergesheimer and James Branch Cabell a subtle kinship in spirit despite the dissimilarity of method, will be interested in the following pen portrait of Cabell which Mr. Hergesheimer recently sent to a friend: "Cabell is a solidly built man of middle height with a smooth, immobile face, deep impressive eves set, and a mouth touched with humor. A very aristocratic individual. His essence is an extraordinary combination of irony and romance—commonly supposed to be destructive one of the other—the former increasing with his years. I need to go no further into the cause of this than to ask you to reflect on the history of all creative writers of depth and beauty. Almost invariably his tales are founded on love—the love of the singular man for the unique woman. His interest, as I have said, is that of a man of breeding, and therefore he is practically forced to turn to periods when gentility was a more or less common quality. The love which attracts him is the ideal passion so beautifully is the ideal passion so beautifully stated by Plato and which, in the French courts of love, was revived as a chaste service of the spirit. The exa chaste service of the spirit. The extraordinary reality of an experience lately covered with cheap ridicule is fully expressed by Dante, Michael Angelo, Sir Philip Sydney, Novalis and the Italians of Middle Florence. It seems to me that some special knowledge of this is necessary to a satisfactory grasp of Cabell."

The Travellers in "The New Decameron" (McBride)

History of the American Theatre

The only complete history of the American stage will shortly be published by the J. B. Lippincott Company. It is called "A History of the in America" and has been written by Arthur Hornblow, who for nineteen years was editor of "The Theatre Magazine" and has written several books, among them "Training for the Stage." The history, in two volumes, will contain photogravure frontispieces and 188 double-tone illustrations from rare engravings, playbills and photographs lent specially from the most important private collections in the country for reproduction in this work.

More on the L. of N.

More on the L. of N.

The Columbia University Press is the American publisher of St. Charles Walston's latest book, published in England with the imprint of the Cambridge University Press, entitled "The English-Speaking Brotherhood and the League of Nations." The book contains five essays of an unusually timely interest: "Nationality and Hyphenism."

"The Expansion of Western Ideals and the World's Peace," "The English-Speaking Brotherhood," "The Next War — Wilsonism and Anti-Wilsonism" and "League of Dreams or League of Realities."

MIRABELLA OF PAMPELUNA. By Complete Yvor. Translated by Lucy Humphrey Smith Published by Charles Scribner's Sons.

A picturesque story by a representative French woman showing the effect of a great war upon the bourgeoisie. The French atmosphere is excellently preserved by the translator.

HETTY BELL. By Frances Kilbourne. Published by Harper & Bro.

A book for conservatives who would bound a girl's life with school, home and marriage.

Amy Lowell: Stimulant

According to a well known bookseller in the financial district, the sale of books of modern verse has been greatly stimulated by the publication of Amy Lowell's "Bookshelf of Modern Poets." published by E. O. Dutton.

"The Haunted Bookshop" a Best Seller

Fourth Avenue and Thirtieth Street. New York

(Established 1839)

DODD, MEAD & COMPANY

pioneers among the leading American publishers, offer an unusually attractive and varied list of new books. Among the authors represented are:

Gertrude Atherton Louis Couperus Lucas Malet John Masefield Berta Ruck Frederick Palmer Maurice Maeterlinck Carolyn Wells

Ralph Waldo Trine

Octavus Roy Cohen Jerome K. Jerome Archibald Marshall George Barr McCutcheon Mrs. Humphry Ward Admiral von Tirpitz Hereward Carrington Ralph Henry Barbour and others

A descriptive catalogue of our latest publications will be sent upon request

Among Those Present

Fiction

FREE AIR. By Sinclair Lewis Published by Harcourt, Brace & Howe.

An entertaining and well told story of a girl who breaks away from the monotonies of life in the East and motors her father across the country. On the way she meets up with a middle Western youth who has sound and sensible standards of life but needs polishing. They motor on together and the story is as breezy as a motor ride itself. ride itself.

factory grasp of Cabell."

A Religious Book Centre

New York is to have a religious book centre—namely, the new Religious Book Shop opened by the Y. M. C. A. at 349 Madison Avenue. Dr. Harold B. Hunter, pastor, author and authority on books religious, will be in charge of the shop.

History of the American Theatre

The only complete history of the American stage will shortly a marry officer, his army officer, his married parameters and marry officer, his married family—American stage will shortly be real army officer, his married family—American stage will shortly be real army officer, his married family—American stage will shortly be real army officer, his married family—American stage will shortly be real army officer, his married family—American stage will shortly be real army officer, his married family—American stage will shortly be real army officer, his more than a picture of the talented Lucy Fitch Perkins, whose "Twin" books are read by children all over the country. "News of twins, whose "Twin" books are read by children all over the country. "News of the latented Lucy Fitch Perkins, whose "Twin" books are read by children all over the country. "News of the latented Lucy Fitch Perkins, whose "Twin" books are read by children all over the country. "News of the latented Lucy Fitch Perkins, whose "Twin" books are read by children all over the country. "News of the latented Lucy Fitch Perkins, whose "Twin" books are read by children all over the country. "News of thildren all over the country. "News of the latented Lucy Fitch Perkins, sit all over the country. "News of the latented Lucy Fitch Perkins, and the country of the sins, whose "Twin" books are read by Lucy sites and indulging to prom hotown" is illustrated by Lucy specific and the country. "News of the latented Lucy Fitch Perkins.

A LITTLE MAID OF OLD PHILADEL.

By Alice Turner Curits, Published by the Pent of the wins, whose "Twin" books are read by Lucy sites, whose "Twin" books are read by Lucy sites, whose "Twin" books are read by Lucy sites

THE GROUND-SWELL. By Mary Hallor Feeder Feeder Published by Houghton Miffin Company.

An intimate and remarkably well drawn picture of an American family—an army officer, his wife and three daughters. Nrs. Foote has depicted with amazing skill the effort a mother with Victorian ideas makes to undern woman, as represented by her daughters, each of whom differs from the other two.

DOPE By Sax Bohmer. Published by Robert M. McBrile & Co. 285 pages.

An absorbing tale of the drug traffic, with the Limehouse district of London than as a background and the mysterious disappearance of a young baronet's colored and the mysterious disappearance of a young baronet's colored to the can army, plays spy and overhears some important news.

TRUDY AND TIMOTHY OUT OF DOORS IN. By Bertha Currier Porter. Published by the Penn Publishing Company.

A story for boys and girls of seven to twelve.

THE STORY OF PORCELAIN. By Sara Ware Bassett. Published by the Penn Publishing Company.

Woven into a romantic setting to give the educational pill its sugar coating, the secrets of porcelain manufacture are disclosed to youthful readers not older than twelve or less than seven.

By Bertha Currier Porter. Published by the Penn Publishing Company.

A story for boys and girls of seven to twelve.

Sara Ware Bassett. Published by the Penn Published by the give the educational pill its sugar coating, the secrets of porcelain manufacture are disclosed to youthful readers not older than twelve or less than seven.

By Bertha Currier Porter. Published by the Penn Publishing Company.

A story for boys and girls of seven to twelve.

Sara Ware Bassett published by the Penn Published b disappearance of a young baronet's BABS AT BIRCHWOOD. By Alice Ross wife as the incentive for action.

BABS AT BIRCHWOOD. By Alice Ross Colver. Published by the Penn Publishing Company.

A book for conservatives who would School bound a girl's life with school, home

EGGY ELISE. By Frederic Atnold Kum-mer and Mary Christian. Published by the Century Company.

A girl, half French, half American, is left an orphan by the fortunes of war and turns to posing to carn enough money to take her to relatives in America. Later she becomes a famous of fairy tales and were for children. singer and through the inherent fine-ness of her own character brings her lover to a more sensitive appreciation of real values.

Shasta is an Indian boy, who, when hardly more than a papeose, is lost in the forest and wanders into a wolves' den. Reared as one of the wolves, he lives the life of a wild creature.

An exciting story of the French and Indian War.

GUARDING HIS GOAL. By Ralph Henry Barbour, Published by D. Appleton Co.

Warner Published by Houghton Mifflin CLUB. By Erances Leater hockey and many makes to Warner Published by Houghton Mifflin CLUB. By Ernest Ingersoit. Published by D. Appleton & Co. by D. Appleton &

WITH THE Y. M. C. A. IN FRANCE.

By Harold C. Warren. Published by the Fleining H. Revell Company.

Glimpses of the American doughboy

By Carl Waterman. Published by E. P. Duton & Co. Glimpses of the American doughboy

Written by a man who ably presents the enchantment of Italy, this book is an ideal guide for the educated traveller.

THE CARLER OF LEONARD WOOD By Joseph Rambien Scars. Published by D. Appleton & Co.

Religious

THE FOUNDATIONS OF MORMONISM.

By William Earl Large, Published by the Fleming H. Reveil Company.

Charles Scribner's Sons. A study of the fundamental facts in the history and doctrines of Mormons, from original sources.

Juvenile THE YOUNG RUSSIAN CORPORAL. By Corporal Paul logicwitch. Published by Harper & Bros.

WHAT PICTURES TO SEE IN EUROPE. By Lorinda M. Bryant. Illustrated. John Lane Company. 181 pages.

ensible standards of life but needs coolishing. They motor on together and the story is as breezy as a motor dide itself.

THE RIDIN' KID FROM POWDER RIVER By Henry Herbert Knibbs. Rublished by Houghton Mifflin Company. Knibb's story is more than a picture of a good-looking cowboy lassooing Fitch Perkins.

A little girl from the Maine woods spends a winter with a cousin living near New York. A modern setting for the old-fashioned girl, for girls between the ages of ten and fifteen.

BETH ANNE GOES TO SOMEON I.
Many Pemberton Ginther, Publishe
by the Penn Publishing Company. A girl who has always found it easy to make friends runs against heavier current when she enters the Brighton

THE FOX AND THE LITTLE RED HEN. By Clifton Johnson, Published by the Macauley Company. A bedtime story for children still

An unusually interesting collection of fairy tales and verse for children.

WATTY & CO. By Edward Hall Putnam. Published by the Macmillan Company. The story of three boys on an island THE CHILDREN'S LIFE OF THE BEE By Maurice Maeterlinck Published by Dodd, Mend & Co.

Dodd, Mead & Co.

Nature lore based on a literary masterpiece and adapted to the understanding of children. ROSEMARY GREENAWAY. By Josiyn Gray, Published Charles Scribner's Sons. A wholesome story for girls. Rosemary is a strong-willed girl whose intense loyalty to the memory of her father sets her in opposition to her whole family. How she eventually sees the error of her position is well told by an author who understands girls without sentimentalizing over them.

THE SUN OF QUEBEC By Joseph A. Altsheler. Published by D Appleton

Laid in and about the campus of the famous Yardley Hall School, this book tells of a boy who learns to play hockey and finally makes the team.

Delightful sketches of family life.

War Books

THE YOUNG RUSSIAN CORPORAL By Corporal Paul Ingolevitch. Published by Harper & Bros.
The true story, told by himself, of a young Russian lad of twelve who managed to get into the army, saw some of the hardest fighting, penetrated the lines as a German spy, and countless interesting adventures. Although listed as a boys' book, this will appeal to adult renders as well.

THE BIG SHOW By Elist Jants. Published by the Cosmopolitan Book Corporation.

Miss Janis's six mouths with the Miss Janis's six months with the COMRADE ROSALIE. By Mary Constance Du Bois. Published by the Contury Company.

Travel and Biography

WANDERINGS IN ITALY. By Gabriel Faure Published by Houghton Miffain

by D. Appleton & Co.

In his biographical appreciation of General Wood the author has shown him a man of rare character, signal abilities—a great American, a worthy man and a distinguished patriot.

STREAMCRAFT. By Dr. George Parker Holden Published by the Steward & Kidd Company.

An angling manual dealing with the selection, care and rigging of the rod, the art of casting, trout habits and all things fishy.

GOD'S FAITH IN MAN. By Frederick F. Shannon. Published by the Flembring H. Revell Company.

THE MAKING OF A FLOWER GARDEN, By Ida D. Bennett. Published by Frederick A. Stokes Company. Sermons by Dr. Shannon, pastor of the Reformed Church-on-the-Heights, trooklyn.

erick A. Stokes Company.

A successful woman gardener has there set down the result of her years of experience.

the A collection of the interesting door-ways to be found among the old houses in New England, with a descriptive ac-count of their history.

DODD, MEAD & COMPANY

Fourth Avenue and Thirtieth Street. New York

CEstablished 1839)

By Harper & Bros.

See above, under War Books.

See above, under War Books.

See above, under War Books.

Fighting With the Bull S. ARMY.

By Captain Charles A. Hotsford. C. E.

By Captain Charles A. Hot

The Betrayers

An Historical Novel Abounding in Carnage

THE BETRAYERS. By Hamilton Drummond. Published by E. P. Dutton & Co.

When the hero is the sort of man who can say, and without a trace of smugness or even self-consciousness, "Did you ever hear what I did in Statle," A statle, and the self-consciousness, "Did you ever hear what I did in Statle," A statle, and the self-consciousness, "Did you ever hear what I did in Statle," A statle, and the self-consciousness, "Did you ever hear what I did in Statle," A statle, and the self-consciousness. "Did you ever hear what I did in Sicily? A doubt hampered me and thus I solved it. I fed two men on the same food, sent one a-hunting, and made the food, sent one a-hunting, and made the other rest, sleeping; then in four hours I killed them both to see which had the greater good of his food. That shocks you? Why? The nation gained; now I know what to feed my soldiers" he deserves that a historical novel be written around him. In choosing for the leading character of his romance. "The Betrayers," Frederick II, the Hohenstaafen, the most remarkable figure of the Middle Ages, Mr. Drummond made certain at once that his story. made certain at once that his story would not, at least, lack color. Frederick's quarrel with Pope Inno-cent IV is the background against which Mr. Drummond, who liberally which Mr. Drummond, who liberally quotes primary sources and contemporary documents of the thirteenth century, weaves a tale that brings to life again the splendid, scarlet, crafty Cardinal Montelegno, the loyal, passionate Suessa even that enigma. Peter de Vinea, whom the textbooks dismiss with "In this same year Peter de Vinea, the

Held in Germany

What the Red Cross Did for Allied Prisoners

PRISONERS OF THE GREAT WAR. By Carl P Dennett, Houghton Mifflin Com-pany, Boston.

As deputy Red Cross commissioner to Switzerland Major Dennett had to Switzerland Major Dennett had charge of the various relief measures which were undertaken for the beneit of American prisoners in Germany. Such measures were sorely needed, for without the additional food and clothing sent them through the Red Cross many of the prisoners would undoubtedly have perished of starvation and exposure.

edly have perished of starvation and exposure.

Major Dennett draws a dark picture of conditions in the German prison camps. He quotes the stories of many escaped prisoners to show the hardships to which they were habitually subjected—bad food, insufficient shelter, brutal abuse by their guards. The adventures of those men who slipped past the barbed wire of their prison camps and made their way over the Swiss and Dutch frontiers after a thousand hairbreadth escapes are really more interesting than anything else in the book.

the book.

The author describes in some detail the system of relief distribution which was worked out by the Red Cross and other agencies that attempted to alleviate the sufferings of the prisoners. He also gives an outline of the routine and characteristics of some of the German prison camps. In this last particular, however, his work cannot be compared with that of Dr. Justin McCarthy, whose book remains at once the fairest, the most scientific and the most comprehensive study of the treatment of Allied war prisoners in Germany.

W. H. C.

Further Adventures of The Scarlet Pimpernel

The best way for a girl to manage per by George H. Doran Company.

The elusive Pimpernel, that combi knows how to manage it, one gathers nation of Robin Hood, Sherlock Holmes from Holman Day's new story, "The and Mr. Thurston, most famous char. Rider of the King Log." Claire Kavand Mr. Thurston, most famous character of Baroness Orczy and one of the brightest spots of the French Revolution, reappears in the baroness's latest novel to aid in the spiriting to England of aristocrats seeking refuge from the terrorists. In a series of marvellous and thrilling exploits, in which the Pimpernel demonstrates his ability at disguising himself as any one of the most famous characters in France, Signer and son of the president. Mr. Percy succeeds in rescuing from the mob scores of royalist families unjustly condemned to death. The clusive Pimpernel is an entertaining if not a plausible fellow.

ladies of that school of fiction

Choice Fiction

E. Temple Thurston's

The World of Wonderful Reality

A glorious whimsy of love and idealism clashing in a girl's soul with the sordid brutalities of a material existence. Unquestionably one of the pre-eminent novels of the fall season$1.75 net

Josephine Daskam Bacon's

Square Peggy

A book of ten brilliant and delightful stories of Society's younger set-by a writer whose name alone is enough to make any book a success ... $1.60 net

Grace Sartwell Mason's

The Shadow of Rosalie Byrnes

A mystery story with a tangled web of romance in which are enmeshed a beautiful young singer and an army officer who sails overseas. $1.60 met

The Secret of the Tower

A romantic novel of to-day that holds the reader tense and expectant until the mystery is cleared up.

J. C. Snaith's

Anthony Hope's

It has the same thrill which gave "The Prisoner of Zenda" such wide popularity$1.60 net

The Undefeated A simple story of plain people hard hit by the war. No novel in recent years has been more universally praised. The most eminent of American authors unite in declaring it the best piece of fiction called forth by the war. 24th Printing.....$1.60 net

E. Lawrence Dudley's

Spriggles

The life story of a little ragamuffin who ran away from the slum world, grew up and became a great artist. It is a tender, whimsical love story, with the interest sustained until the last chapter, $1.60 net Emerson Hough's done in Hough's best style. It is a great story of a man's regeneration through love $1.50 net

The Sagebrusher This is a virile, two-fisted novel of the great West,

THESE ARE APPLETON BOOKS D. Appleton & Company - - Publishers - - New York

THE AUTHORS

of some of our more important mid-October books join us in expressing to you our regret that the printers' strike has slightly postponed the publication of the following volumes. Won't you cut out this list and keep it as a reminder to buy these books as soon as you can obtain them? Skillfully interwoven with the mystery and beauty of the redwood forests of the West, is the tale of two wanderers amidst a strange race, and as charming a love story as has ever been told The thousands of readers of Mary Austin will find here all her brilliance with an added grace

DUST OF NEW YORK by Konrad Bercovici The powerful little stories of this volume afford vivid, unforgetable glimpses of New Yorkers—Jews, Irish, Turks, Italians, Greeks, French—all before they have melted into the one great unit.

HEY-RUB-A-DUB DUB by Theodore Dreiser This is probably the frankest expression of a great writer's viewpoint that has ever been writ-ten. The wide variety of subjects should appeal to a wide variety of people. If philosophy care ever be made sensational, Mr. Dreiser has here achieved this feat. OUR AMERICA by Waldo Frank When the leading progressive publing house of France wanted a book about the new America they commissioned Waldo Frank to write it. We believe that no such all-embracing and magnificent attempt to interpret the development of a partier and its applicable by the complete of the complete nation and its people has hitherto been made-not by Lytton Strachey in his "Eminent Victori-ans" nor by Taine in his "English Literature"— comparisons which only suggest. $1.75

THE MODERN BOOK OF ENGLISH VERSE Edited with an introduction by Richard Le Gallienne Here are all the familiar beauties and many fresh ones, the modern and contemporary note being particularly stressed. Mr. Le Galliene's purpose was to compile an anthology comprising poems approved both by popular and critical applause.

Mary Austria
Thurden Danie
Richard & Jackiems
33. a Proud
Farold Steams

by Andreas Latzio by Mary Austin THE JUDGMENT OF PEACE Translated by Ludwig Lewisohn

This tremendous novel by the author of MEN IN WAR has already been compared to Barbusse's "Clarte" as MEN IN WAR was compared with his "Under Fire." Just as MEN IN WAR was considered by many the greatest war-book, so do we consider THE JUDGMENT OF PEACE the greatest challenge of Today to Tomorrow. $1.75

INSTIGATIONS by Ezra Pound Don't be a friend of a friend of Ezra Pound's. Stop KNOWING ABOUT HIM—read INSTIGATIONS. Here are verses and living studies of French poets, a vitalized analysis of Henry James, and a discussion of the looming figures of litera-THE SWING OF THE PENDULUM by Adriana Spadeni A great feminist novel, but a greater novel of modern American womanhood. It is a fascinat-

LIBERALISM IN AMERICA

Liberalism in America is discussed here, in perfect good temper, by the former Associate Editor of "The Dial." No thoughtful man or woman can ignore this book.

$1.75

THEIR SON AND THE NECKLACE by Eduardo Zamacris Translated by George Allan England

Two finely etched dramas of everyday life, which crash suddenly into unexpected and tremendous moments; by one of the greatest of that group of Spanish novelists with which America is beginning to familiarize itself.

ing, engrossing story, offering a candid portrayal of man's attitude toward sex and man and woman's true relationship. by Harold Stearns The origin, temporary collapse and future of